ABOUT SUPERNOBA

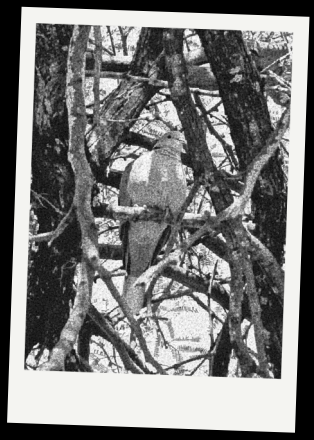

Supernoba isn't just a stage name: it is the voice of a life, a vessel for every experience, memory, scar and dream of its creator. Behind it is Javier —Jabi—, a multidisciplinary artist from the State of Mexico working across literature, music and software. He sums it up in three facets: Jabi the one who thinks, noba the one who writes, and Supernoba the one who sings.

It all began on the page. Brillo de una Estrella Muerta (Shine of a Dead Star), his debut novel, follows the life cycle of a star in four parts —Nebula, Red Giant, Supernoba and White Dwarf— and was released in installments in December 2025, in an online reader he built himself. Today it is also available in print.

If the novel tells how this entity came to be, the music is its voice in real time. His first singles arrived in 2026: Rulos in March and nohablobien / part3 in June. part3 is born straight from the third part of the book: every song is one more star in the same sky.

His background as a developer gives him something rare: complete control over both the visual and the technical narrative of his art. He built the site where his books and songs live, and beyond art he creates artificial intelligence and accessibility projects; as Tech Lead of RailSense, he won the Open Source track at the Mobility & AI Hackathon 2025.
